

Why Palmer Hammond

Spend More Time Growing Your Business.

Many people try to save money by doing their own books. If you redirect that energy working on growing your business, your increased revenue will far exceed the cost of a professional bookkeeper.

Always Know Your Numbers.

Profit & Loss, Cash Flow and Balance Sheet. It's a full-time job maintaining the books. Accurate numbers allow you to make better business decisions. Lenders, the IRS, and other institutions look to see if you're running your business right. Inaccurate recordkeeping can cause you to overpay taxes, subject you to audits, and have you denied for a loan. Sleep well at night knowing when reports are requested, we will quickly and accurately produce them.

Work With a Local Firm Who Can Understand Your Business.

Internet based firms can never understand your business or provide the hands-on service that your local business service representative will. We provide a personal relationship with a full understanding of your business operations. As a local firm too, we are here to support you in growing your business and leading you on a path to success. You will also receive business solution and development consultations. Better bookkeeping and so much more!
